

Live in Y.K.

Here in the city, I'd go for fun but it's not the way I would pick up lines it's getting crazy, I can't go back it's easy as she hide inside

I'm done waiting for the sun (2X) bitter melon taste like wine now it's time to go underground killing music, killing sounds

it's easy as she hide inside

watching the sun sets near the river touch the flowers in the garden see the picture for the last time remembering what happened here and there see the moon and see the stars, let's sing to the moonlight (2X)

Hymn for a friend in the sky hey you there in the sky, will you follow me for a while I'll write your name on the stone where i stand, i hope this won't be the end I'm asking you to hear this song through me, it's not just about words and rhymes i don't know where you going but i hope you'll find a place, i hope you there and safe

no more hollows in the heart, no more cry and misery, we're just a bunch of strangers with nowhere to hide and maybe someday they will remember you and give you this song and sing.....and sing here a song for you when you are down, just tell me how does it feel try to accept goodbyes and tears, heaven knows the time has come we're gonna miss you when you are gone, this is for you who wait and see it takes you ride to another side of universe, i hope you feel alright

no more hollows in the heart, no more cry and misery,
we're just a bunch of strangers with nowhere to hide
this song and sing.....and sing (2X)
